

Class of 1964 40th Reunion Pictures

Here is a collection of reunion photos from the cameras of Ron Coulter and Bill Richards in June of 2004 at the class 40th Reunion. It was great weather and a great time for all who attended.

Beautiful Linden Lane (remember this place?) on a warm June morning at Holy Cross. The campus looked better than ever and continues to win awards every year for the landscaping. Remember coming through these gates in a hurricane on our first day over 40+ years ago?

Sunday morning and time to leave after too short of a visit with old friends. Bob and Judy Nist and Paul and Connie Bates finish up a great breakfast. Bob won the Chuck Jagoda fashion award for the most colorful and unique polo shirts. Lucky Judy got her own HC tee shirt for spending 2 nights in Hanselman dorm and for still talking to Bob on Sunday.

Another "rouges galley" at the Sunday morning breakfast at Hogan Hall finds John Whitehouse (Florida), Kay and Phil Metres (Chicago), Rosemary Coulter (California) and John Smith (North Carolina) enjoying the good food. Mother Kimball never served good grits like these!

More roughish is this next gallery. Joe Ballway, Marty O'Malley, Ron Maheu, Jenny Ballway and Jim Boehler seem to think that something is pretty funny. Maybe they are retelling all of the great jokes that Fr. McFarland told the night before at Kimball Hall!

Here are the real rouges of the weekend. Chris and Barbara Hoppin join Rich Maiberger and EJ Welch for more laughs. They obviously were enjoying themselves too much at the reunion.

On Friday, we had a golf tournament at the Blackstone National Golf Club, a real up and down test of golf skills (it was very hilly). Ron Coulter (shown on the left in case you forgot) shot a gross 68 and didn't win a thing. His wife Rosemary (the little person next to him) hit the longest drive of the ladies and won $75 at the Pro shop. Such is golf!

Ron and Rosemary played in a foursome with Aideen and Doug Fraser at the golf match. Aideen prayed every time she hit the ball (she always said "Oh my God!") and she also won $75 at the pro shop---for predicting her exact score in advance. Doug had a lower score than Aideen, out drove Rosemary and only lost 6 golf balls and won nothing. As you can plainly see by these results, girls are better golfers than boys.

Tom Dowd was again a most engaging and effective master of ceremonies for the Class get-together after Saturday night's Alumni dinner. He was really in the "pink" that night.

Friday night at the Hogan Center Class dinner found Doug and Aideen Fraser, George Demore and Tim Hayes and his wife discussing their plans to run in the Andy Kelly 10K race early on Saturday morning. They all decided to go to Luigi's for breakfast instead but nobody could remember how to get there.

It's just like old times at a mixer with Anna Maria. It is almost 10 o'clock and the wall is filled with guys scoping out the girls waiting to make their move. Only Jack Gordon has made a move on a honey while Mike Hueston and Jim Boehler watch in amazement and admiration. In the meantime, Father Dunn gives Tim Hayes yet another lesson in how to pick up a nice Catholic girl at a mixer. The stag line in the back includes Ron Maheu, Jim Cooney, Jeff Brandowski, and Ernie Mittelholzer who brought his steady girlfriend Mary to the mixer so he would have somebody to dance with.
